NEW 'HD+' COATING in SANDGRAIN finishing

Dear Customers,

We are pleased to announce an important product news: TECSEDO, in cooperation with an international pre-painted steel supplier, developed a super polyester base paint with a new finishing who provides a great aesthetic effect, a modern design with a strong architectural value.

The new 'HD+' coating in 'Sandgrain' finishing will be available starting from the end of March 2016.

This pre-painted coating has a total thickness which goes up to 35/40 microns, a high resistance and it guarantees a modern and trendy aesthetic that undoubtedly will satisfy the most demanding customers.

The finishing, smooth and at the same time slightly structured', has anti-scratch properties and is particularly suitable for panels for residential use. It will be initially available in color RAL 7016. We will also be pleased to receive your inquiries for any alternative colors you may require, for minimum quantities to be defined.

Samples of panels for your assessments are immediately available and will be shipped to you as soon as we will receive your kind requests.

Furthermore, the product data sheet is at your disposal in any time.

As usual, our staff is at your disposal for any information that may be necessary.

Kind regards

Sales Dept.
